Images Of Pastoral Care

Synopsis

This book is an edited volume of works that have predominated over the past several decades in contemporary pastoral theology. Through the writings of nineteen leading voices in the history of pastoral care, Dykstra shows how each contributor developed a metaphor for understanding pastoral care. Such metaphors include the solicitous shepherd, the wounded healer, the intimate stranger, the midwife, and other tangible images. Through these works, the reader gains a sense of the varied identities of pastoral care professionals, their struggles for recognition in this often controversial field, and insight into the history of the discipline. Includes readings by: Anton T. Boisen, Alastair V. Campbell, Donald Capps, James E. Dittes, Robert C. Dykstra, Heije Faber, Charles V. Gerkin, Brita L. Gill-Austern, Karen R. Hanson, Seward Hiltner, Margaret Zipse Kornfeld, Bonnie J. Miller-McLemore, Jeanne Stevenson Moessner, Henri J. M. Nouwen, Gaylord Noyce, Paul W. Pruyser, Edward P. Wimberly.

"Robert Dykstra's reading of the pastoral theological tradition is masterful. This book is at once a history of the field, woven together around living illustrations of key moments and metaphors, and a fresh conceptualization. Its three-part grouping of classical, paradoxical, and contemporary/contextual 'images of care,' its well-chosen and carefully edited excerpts of each image, and its wisely crafted introductory remarks make this a real gold mine. Seldom does one find a book that is so useful both for ministers desiring a basic introduction to pastoral care and doctoral students seeking a sophisticated understanding of the field. We are indebted to Dykstra for this multifaceted contribution."

"Dykstra, who is among the most imaginative pastoral theologians today, invites us to imagine, with him and others, what caring ministries require and what caring ministers may do. Bringing together in one volume discussions of various metaphors for ministry, including those proposed by pioneers and present-day shapers of pastoral theology, this unique and superb book provides not only a typology of approaches but also current trajectories for an aspect of ministry that remains fluid and open-ended. Dykstra's gifts for synthesis and clarity shine in introductions to chapters on others' metaphors, and he demonstrates his own capacity for imagination by adding to the mix the metaphor of 'The Intimate Stranger.' Wishing this important book had been available when I was a student seeking to take in both the landscapes and possibilities of caring ministries, I look forward to imagining with my students in new ways!" Allan Hugh Cole, Jr., Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary

I like the foundational principal of this book: the person is the tool of ministry. It is interesting to read this from the perspective that one can utilize different approaches in pastoral care to best meet the needs of the patient/parishioner/client.

This resource makes you think in pictures which are much more powerful than thoughts and words. An excellent resource for intro counseling classes.

I have read this book as part of my reading requirements and enjoyed. I will be reading it again for my doctoral program class.

A great resource.

This text is one we utilize frequently in training Clinical Pastoral Education students.

Excellent book! Great understanding of the different facets of being a pastor!

Great book.
