Great book! My wife and I have been following the steps and principles laid out for us by the Mastermind team and I feel we're heading in the right direction. We conducting research and narrowed down our first product and have already started communicating with and ordering samples from different manufacturers. We managed to design a brand around the product, came up with a business name, created a logo, and have started working on a website to tie it all together. A lot of hard work? Yes, but we took baby steps and made sure we kept moving forward. Remember, there's no short cuts if you want to do things right. Just do what the book tells you to do and you'll be fine. Can't wait for their next book! Thanks Masterminds, Dean
