Alan Gear and Barry Freestone have been glass painting for over 20 years and run their own successful company in Manchester. Their interest in craft extends beyond glass, and in 2001 they began hosting a regular half-hour craft slot on the QVC Channel onto which they invite a range of experts to talk about craft subjects. They have also written The Complete Guide to Glass Painting and the hugely successful Glass Painter's Guide to Motifs.

Needlepoint, woodburning, stained glass... and so so so much more! I first checked this book out from the library, and after poring over it a time (and a renewal!) or two, realized that I pretty much just needed to add it to my own library. I've used it for many, many projects since then. Definitely worth the buy!

These motif books are a great help for people like me who lack creative ideas of their own - they have lots and lots of ideas that are sure to move you along on your creative journey.

If you like to paint you will love this book, the images are a bit small but if you have a projector you should be fine or you could just use it as inspiration either way its has images in it.

Quick service too especially since it came from the UK. I can get a lot of use from this book since I paint on porcelain and am always looking for different motifs to use in my work especially on backgrounds.

This wonderful new book makes a great companion to the Glass Painters Motif Library. None of the designs in this book are repeated and as with the Glass Painters Motif Library all of the designs are copyright free. If you have access to broadband internet why not catch our regular TV shows on [...] where you will see some great demonstrations of many craft items. Don't miss our new book, The Complete Guide to Stamping which is published in March 2004. Also look out for regular features on us on HGTV in the United States.

I got this book a few years ago, and it has been invaluable to me. I do decorative painting on furniture, and I have gotten many ideas from this book. The best thing about it is that it's got designs in so many catagories. Animals, people, flowers, art deco, indian,etc... It's a gold mine!

This book has so many ideas that you can build on and is fabulous especially if you're not sure where to start on something!
