Customer Reviews

My 9 year old son, who HATES to read, absolutely LOVES this series of books! My son has struggled to learn to read since kindergarten. Now that he is in 3rd grade, he has steadily progressed in his reading ability. Anytime I ask him to read "required" material, he balks. Then, he recently discovered some Imagination Station books on his brother's bookshelf. He started reading and hasn't stopped. He's read 12 books in the past 3 weeks...which is HUGE for him! I wish these books were still being written because I don't know what he will read next. But, I'm thankful for the time he's had with this series. Additionally, the Imagination Station books have history thread throughout them. He's reading and learning at the same time. Thank you, Focus on the Family, for an amazing series!

My son loves the entire series - great books with excellent messages. Another great series from AIO. I did not receive any benefit from posting this review, but want to share that it is an excellent choice of reading material - especially in a time when so much of the reading material for children is questionable.

This is one of the best book series I have ever read. I have the entire collection so far.

We're getting the next book right away when it comes out. Patrick and Beth journeyed to Ecuador and met Racheal and Steve Saint and Waodani people. I enjoyed this book because it was interesting and suspenseful. I would recommend this book for anyone who likes Christian books!

My son loved this book. He has been reading the series of these books since 1st grade. He hasn't put the books down and is now in the 6th grade. We look forward to more in the series. We hope the author will expand to the Middle and High school reading levels with the kids.

My son loves all of these books. He is 7 now and had read the first 16 of them while he was sick. I like that I can trust their content. We can't wait until book 18 comes out.

Great book series for a conservative mom who doesn't have time to preview EVERY book the children want read! Even my boys love this series!

My kids love this series! Adventurous, historical, and safe compared to other children's series out there. Highly recommend for ages 8 - 12.

My son loves these books. I started reading to him when he was 5 and now he is re-reading for himself at 8.
