Synopsis

Now, completely up to date, the "Timelines On File[trademark]" four-volume set has been used and trusted by middle and high school students, teachers, and librarians for years. New information covers the current situation in Iraq, as well as the Canadian provinces. Each updated volume in this comprehensive set provides hundreds of illustrations, tables, and graphs, and is arranged to closely follow today's school curriculum. Volume I covers ancient and medieval history, focusing on societies around the globe. Volume II explores the history of the expanding world, and Volume III examines the 20th century. Volume IV presents a thumbnail history of each United Nations member, every U.S. state, and every Canadian province. Customer Reviews

Grade 6 Up "Each volume in this loose-leaf set is divided into multiple sections, primarily by geography, and includes the major themes of religion, arts, and science and technology. Most of the time lines are enhanced by a black-and-white line drawing, portrait, or map of the period.

Unfortunately, the density of the text and the repetitive nature of the layouts create some visually dull pages. Some of the shorter time lines permit more than one graphic, which adds more interest. In general, the maps are the most appealing and useful enhancements. As the reproduction certificate in each volume indicates, the pages can be photocopied and distributed to students as reference material. However, this set is even more valuable as a teacher resource because of the curriculum ideas it will generate. With 18 new plates and 150 newly designed illustrations, the set is a valuable acquisition, but not a critical replacement of the 2000 edition.â “Linda Greengrass, Bank Street College Library, New York City Copyright Â© Reed Business Information, a division of Reed Elsevier Inc.
