For those of us older folks, GPS is not a replacement for a good old fashioned map! This laminated map is sturdy and very practical to keep in your car....my only complaint is the print is smaller than 6 font....a magnifying glass is required to read most of the street names. But if your smart phone battery is dead or your car's GPS is on the fritz, this map will get you where you want to be!

This was a gift for my grandmother, she is new to town and requested a nice laminated map so she could figure out where things were and how to get there. This was the only travel size laminated map we could find. We thought this would be a nice choice for her but this map is too small for her to read and is missing much of the city including the area where she lives. Christmas eve we rushed out to Barnes and Noble to pick up a new much larger map. This is a great buy if you are only looking for a very general idea of where the older parts of town are and don't mind pulling out a magnifying glass to read it.
